The closing scene in the farcical proceedings to discover the participants in the Leo Frank lynching came at Marietta, Ga., last week when the Cobb county grand jury reported that it could find no evidence whatever to convict anybody. It was hardly expected that they would. The plan of suppressing identity of the lynchers seems to have been well understood in Georgia all along. The mob spirit rules, all others not into the game are bluffed, and the dark blot on a fair Southern State stands out darker than ever.

The action of Kentucky Democrats at the State Convention last week in endorsing the administration of President Wilson and declaring in favor of his renomination in 1916, was a clarion cry to the country and is being heartily received by Democrats everywhere. Kentucky is the first of the States to take this sort of action and every loyal Democrat should be proud of the distinction. Up to this time the President has given no sign regarding his future plans. But he will probably not be able to resist the importunities for him to run again.

Whatever the Committee on Organization in the Louisville Democratic State Convention may have thought was their privilege in displacing certain party officers, they seem to have made a mistake in ousting Mr. Urey Woodson from his place on the National Committee. It was generally understood that Mr. Woodson was chosen to fill out Mr. Mayo's unexpired term, which has some time to run yet. No convention except one called to name delegates to a National Convention has ever done this before. This action was entirely uncalled for.

It is said that comparisons are odious, but loyal Kentucky Democrats can hardly help noticing the difference between Senator Beckham and Judge O'Rear. Recently they both flew off their party's track to stump the State for Prohibition. When the Republican convention assembled, Judge O'Rear tried valiantly to get his party to accept his views but gracefully accepted defeat for the sake of party harmony. Senator Beckham did the other thing. In the closing minutes of his party's State Convention he threw discord in the ranks because the proceedings did not suit him. You can draw your own conclusions.

Whether the Committee on Permanent Organization did right or wrong in committing the Louisville Democratic State Convention to a removal of certain high functionaries in party office, Senator Beckham was the wrong man to throw a political bomb into his own party's ranks and cause discord by a motion which he must have known would be lost. He would better have "let George do it." His feet having hardly rested from traveling over the State with Judge O'Rear, both in the business of causing discord and a split in their own party, after both had been signally honored, Senator Beckham is the last man to say anything about party irregularity. He seems yet intent on splitting his party.

The Hartford Republican goes out of its way and without cause makes an unkind personal attack upon Messrs. Birkhead and Ringo—the former (through the Owensboro News) because he did not call a special term of court to investigate alleged election irregularities, and the latter because his attorneys invoked the plain letter of the law in his defense of Tanner's contest suit. Judge Birkhead called a special panel of the grand jury, which has just adjourned, to investigate all kinds of wrongdoing. The editor of the Republican is a lawyer. He must know that after the statute had been cited in the Tanner-Ringo contest suit, there was no basis—no suit—upon which to continue action in the matter, as the presiding Judge ruled.

In a talk before an advertising convention in Chicago last week, when he was asked regarding his political future and whether he would ever run for office again, Hon. W. J. Bryan said:

"I want it understood that I have no plans now or for the future to at any time become a candidate for any office. I have no political expectations whatever."

Mr. Bryan said he thought this explanation ought to be satisfactory to everybody except that class of people who insist he shall promise that never under any circumstances will he ever be a candidate for anything again. He says he does not think it necessary to make that kind of a promise now.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST DIPLOMAT IS WILSON

Washington, Sept. 6.—Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, a warm personal friend of William J. Bryan, to-day expressed enthusiasm over the prospect of the re-election of President Wilson.

The Senator directed through the recent State Convention of Kentucky a resolution endorsing the President for a second term.

"The President's action in obtaining from Germany an acceptance of his contention with regard to submarine warfare will make his name in history secure as the world's greatest diplomat," said Senator James to-day.

"The President," he added, "has done by peace what Roosevelt wanted to thrust the country into war to undertake."

"He has furnished renewed evidence that the people made no mistake in trusting to his patriotism and statesmanship."

Senator James predicts that A. O. Stanley will be elected by an old time Democratic majority of 40,000.

BEAVER DAM.

Sept. 6.—Beaver Dam is putting on city style, having street lights in full blast. The town Board has made a contract with Mr. J. H. Barnes to furnish the city lights for ten years.

Rev. R. L. Creal filled his regular appointment at the Baptist church Sunday. After the sermon Clifford Maddox was licensed to preach by order of the church. He leaves for Georgetown College next week for his last term in that institution. One sad feature of the Sunday School was the absence of Mr. Short Burgess, who has been superintendent for three years. He resigned to move with his family to Owensboro to make their future home. Also Miss Myrl Miller, who had been a faithful teacher in the same school, left with her father and mother, Mr. A. K. Miller and wife, for Tulsa, Okla., to make their home in that city. Mr. Sam Mason, wife and daughter have gone to the same city. Mr. Mason's boys are in the grocery business in Tulsa and he and his family go to join them. His daughter Miss Myrtle was a member of the Baptist Sunday School, always present while here.

Mr. Thomson Williams and wife left last week for Herrin, Ill., to engage in the mining business.

Mrs. Irene Beesley, of Morgantown, is visiting the family of Mr. Bass Taylor.

Mr. Dudley Tanner, who has been with his father and mother at Rockwood, Tenn., during vacation, returned Friday to be ready for school. He is vice president of Beaver Dam school.

Mrs. Elizabeth Burgess left last week for Cold Water, Kan., to meet her husband, who has been living in Kansas since early in the summer.

Miss Mary Lee Creal, of Supply, Okla., has arrived at the home of her uncle, Rev. R. L. Creal, to matriculate in school.

The fall term of the West Kentucky Seminary opened this morning with a full corps of teachers, everything pointing to another interesting term.

KENTUCKY FIRST STATE ON BOOSTING WILSON

For Renomination—Party Leaders At Washington Are Much Pleased.

Washington, Sept. 4.—It is generally understood here that the action of the Kentucky Democrats in State platform convention at Louisville in endorsing the administration of President Wilson and declaring in favor of his renomination in 1916, means that Woodrow Wilson will seek a second term.

Party leaders here made no effort to conceal their gratification that Kentucky was the first "to get in on the ground floor" in putting its stamp of approval on the Administration and favoring the renomination of the President.

Up to this time the President has made no public statement of any kind regarding his future plans. Time and again his friends have tried to learn from him whether or not he proposes to seek a second term, but first-hand information was not forthcoming.

Shortly before Senator James, who served as chairman of the Resolutions Committee of the platform convention, left Washington for Louisville he called at the White House and had a long talk with the President. The friends of the President are of the opinion that he had an inkling such a resolution would be introduced in the convention. At all events, the President and his supporters here are greatly pleased over the result of the convention.

Ohio County Fair.

Arrangements are going forward steadily for the great Ohio County Fair which will begin Sept. 16th and continue three days. Vast improvements are being made to the grounds and buildings. No more beautiful grounds are to be found in Kentucky. Situated on the shores of Rough river with a natural grove, which has been the admiration of thousands of visitors, the site furnishes a most delightful place for a few days rest and enjoyment among old friends and acquaintances.

The amphitheater has been rebuilt and general improvements to all buildings. Good premiums and purses are offered in all departments. Special attractions never before seen in Ohio county have been provided. A fine band will be on hand to furnish music each day. No one can afford to miss the great Ohio County Fair this year. Remember the dates, Sept. 16, 17 and 18.

Notice.

Centertown, Ky., Sept. 4, 1915. Editors Hartford Herald:—In the Owensboro Messenger of August 28, 1915, on the front page, is printed an article saying that I and 21 others were to be tried the next day for decoying Wm. Barnes from Butler county and whipping him brutally. The statement is absolutely false, as I was never charged with whipping Barnes by the grand jury or any one else except this paper, and had no knowledge of the affair until it was over. The Owensboro paper having refused to retract the statement after I notified them of its falsehood, I ask you to print this letter.

I have used this Owensboro paper for this libel, and only ask that public judgment may be suspended until the case can be tried.

Big Sum For Schools.

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 6.—Nearly $4,000,000 will be available for the schools of Kentucky for the year 1915-1916. Of this amount $3,993,360.25 is available from the per capita, $29,622.46 from the dog tax, $21,265.85 as interest on bonds and $3,697.42 balance due from last year, making a total of $3,967,947.98 available for the present scholastic year. These figures were compiled by the Department of Education.

IS MAINLY THE WORK OF THE REPUBLICAN PRESS

The Republican press of the State and a few soreheads are trying to make much out of the changes made by the State Convention in some of the committeemen. The purpose of these two opposing factions is clear—they wish to lead astray all the voters they can. The row is the making of a mountain out of a mole hill; that and nothing more.

Every consistent Democrat does and will accept the action by his vote in November without doubt. What little soreheadedness which may now exist will by then have disappeared, and the work of the Republicans to make much of little, for their own political advantage, will go for naught. Mr. Stanley and the ticket of which he is the head is going to receive the largest majority given the Democrats in any general contest for many years. This is a fact which doubters can count upon.—[Paducah News-Democrat.]

TAFT BURNS MORTGAGE ON PRISCO EXPOSITION

San Francisco, Sept. 4.—William Howard Taft, who, as President of the United States, broke ground for the Panama-Pacific Exposition four years ago, to-night burned the exposition mortgage in a ceremony which symbolized payment of all indebtedness. The ashes were cast to the winds from an illuminated aeroplane by Charles Niles.

Charles C. Moore, president of the Exposition, holding a check for $110,159.02, the payment which made the exposition debt free, and a representative of the San Francisco Clearing-house, holding the mortgage, stood in the center of a spotlight's glare and exchanged papers.

Figures representing the Indian, the pioneer, the cavalier, labor, energy, genius and imagination, appeared in tuft in living pictures.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Public:—I have bought of Mr. E. E. Birkhead the farm agency of the Continental Insurance Company and will continue to write farm property in the Continental in this county and Butler.

The Continental is an old established company and needs no introduction to the people of Ohio county. It has a capital of more than two millions of dollars and has been doing business for many years. During all of the time that it has been writing farm property in this county it has never had a lawsuit and although it has had hundreds of losses, no one has ever had to sue to collect his loss.

I will have an office in Hartford and will continue the practice of law in connection with my insurance. I will have good solicitors in the county and will appreciate your business. When you write your business in the Continental, you know you are safe. It is no experiment.

Thanking the people for their many past favors and hoping that I may be favored with your business, I am,

Sincerely,
OTTO C. MARTIN.

CENTAUR,

Kentucky's Favorite Educated Horse, will Be at the Ohio Country Fair.

Centaur, the horse with human brains, is no doubt, the finest trained animal traveling to-day. Mr. Simon Smith, his trainer, veritably carries on a conversation with Centaur, who performs feats that would be hard for many children less than ten years of age. It is a well known fact that all animals have no particular liking for fire, and in most cases it is utterly impossible to induce one to approach flame of any kind, but with Centaur he seems to be perfectly at home when he dashes into a burning building at each performance and rescues a child, bringing the infant to safety and depositing it in the arms of his master. Centaur spells words and names called from the audience with the greatest ease, also proves himself a wonder in solving examples in arithmetic. He is the only horse known to have been trained to get into a real bed and cover himself up just like a person.

In addition to the horse show you will witness a very clever wire act, flying trapeze acts. Last, but not least, see Wayne, the dog, walk the high rope.

LICENSED TO MARRY.

Plowing Time!

Wheat sowing season will soon roll around. Don't put off your plowing until the last minute.

BUY YOURSELF A NEW OLIVER RIDING BREAKING PLOW and enjoy real luxury in plowing.

It does the work so perfectly and with so little effort on the part of your team that you are always in a happy frame of mind when plowing with the Oliver.

If you don't know positively that these statements are absolutely true, ask any farmer who has used an Oliver. If he doesn't tell you they are true in every sense of the term, don't buy the plow.

A telephone call will bring our demonstrator to your field and he will show you how a real plow operates.

A demonstration places you under no obligation to buy. It must please you and do your work to your entire satisfaction or we don't want to sell it to you.
